LORD LISTER'S SCOTTISH CAREER.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Edinburgh, February 13.

It was in Scotland, at the medical school of

Edinburgh and Glasgow, that Lord

Lister made the studies and discoveries that gained him his high place in the annals of surgery. When he first came to Edinburgh, then the great centre of medicine and surgery in Europe, it was to act under Professor Syme, "the Napoleon of surgery." Then, as Lister himself tells us, to the remarkable liberality of the University and the College, he was enabled,

on the expiry of his house-surgery in the Royal Infirmary, to start a course of lectures with a large amount of professional privilege. This he declared to be an advantage which then existed in connection with no other medical school in the country.

All his life he was grateful for the privilege

then accorded; he gave eloquent voice to it when, at the summit of his career, he received the freedom of the city. He added, "I also received from Edinburgh a gift which I cannot name, but which was to me a source of inextinguishable blessing,"

the gift of a wife, the daughter of his great master, Syme. It was in Edinburgh, too, as he was never weary of recalling, that he spent some of his best and happiest days. For a few years he was Regius

Professor of Surgery in Glasgow, and these years were marked by his great discovery.

At that time, the deaths from blood-poisoning, or "sepsis," gangrene, and other forms of malignant sores were terribly numerous. Sir James Simpson had given us anaesthesia, and the "deepest furrow in the knowledge" of anatomy was smoothed for ever, but there remained the common saying, "the more operations, the more deaths." It seemed as if Simpson's discovery would die

by its own success. Lister, however, had begun his experiments in Edinburgh;

he continued them in Glasgow; and the key to the problem on which his mind was fixed is found in a striking incident.

While going round the wards in Glasgow

Royal Infirmary, he one day came to the bedside of a patient whose arm had been severely crushed with a skin having received an injury. Turning to his students, he said, "Gentlemen, I have frequently noticed that when severe injuries are received without the skin being broken, the cases nearly always recover.

On the other hand, trouble is always apt to follow even in trivial injuries when a wound in the skin is present. How is this?

The man who is able to explain this problem is one who will gain, for himself undying fame." Lister had early accepted the germ theory; he determined to apply it to surgery. He had heard that carbolic acid had been used at Carlisle to deodorise a sewage farm, and to destroy the insects

which tormented the neighbouring cattle.

He procured a sample of this acid "then little more than a chemical curiosity in Scotland," applied it during operations, and was soon able to declare that his patients "the healthiest in the world, while other wards separated from mine only by a passage a few feet broad, where former modes of treatment for a while continued, retain their former inauspicious status." This was the beginning of antiseptic surgery, which by developed while Professor at Edinburgh as the successor to Syme, and was soon to become universally practised throughout the world. When Lister left Edinburgh for London in the service, his name and fame were already made, and the rest of his life was a triumphant procession.

THE FIGHT FOR DUNSTABLE.

In days of other years, the dispute between the Duke of Argyll and his

vassal John Campbell, "Captain of Dunstable," as to the ownership of the ancient keep of that name, would have been settled out of Court. But the question, in these peaceful days, had to be taken to the Scottish Court of Session; it has engaged the legal acumen of many months, and it would be rash to say that the decision which has just been given will mark the end of the litigation. Meanwhile, the picture which was gained by Campbell

before Lord Gailen has been somewhat diminished by the result of the renewed action before the Lord President and his colleagues of the First Division.

Campbell retains the right to "occupy"

the picturesque ruin as its hereditary captain and custodian; but the actual proprietorship is now found to rest with the Duke of Argyll as overlord, a proprietaryship, however, which does not carry with it the power of eviction. In other words, the superior gains the name of proprietor, and the vassal gets the castle.

If neither has secured what he wanted, both can now claim direct association with the embellished pile which witnessed the exploits

of Robert the Bruce and sheltered Flora

Macdonald—not to speak of the impartial Dalgetty.

MALARIA SHIPPED HIS STRENGTH.

EDMUND DISCOVERED, HARRY WILKINSON AND

DR. JONES' THANKFULLY ATTRIBUTES HIS

COMPLETE RECOVERY TO

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

NOT in itself a disease, but a symptom,

Dropy is a sure sign that something is very seriously wrong with the unfortunate person in whom it appears. In the case of Mr. G. W. Jones, malarial poisoning was the predisposing cause.

"I contracted Malaria in 1907, and after that my life was made wretched by constant sick headaches and attacks of Ague," said

Mr. Jones, who is up and about on the Gambol Estate near Kandy, Ceylon. "I lost strength and weight, my kidneys became diseased, and ultimately such a tormenting back pain

assailed me that I was compelled to go into the Kandy Hospital, where I lay until the condition of my kidneys was found to be so bad that I was pronounced incurable,

and I returned to my own home and bed.

The Dr. who set in and my life was despaired of. In the meantime my face would swell, and this, as the day advanced, extended over my whole body. My heart palpitated so badly that the doctors feared

I had heart disease, and at any moment

might

Drop Down Dead.

A few years previously my wife had been cured almost miraculously by Dr.

Williams' Pink Pills, so I resolved to try the use of the first few bottles I developed an excellent appetite. As I went on taking them my kidneys regained the power to work freely, all signs of Dropy

vanished, my heart became strong, and the attacks of malaria ceased. Thus I regain in perfect health.

During the past twenty years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have cured ten of thousands of sufferers from

Anemia, Indigestion, and various forms

Rheumatism, Malaria, Skin Complaints

and the ailments of ladies. Obtainable from medicine vendors, and post free,

one bottle for $1.50, six for $8, from the

Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 84 Szechuen

Road, Shanghai.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Owing to pressure on our space we were unable yesterday to cover the whole of the transactions at the Legislative Council meeting. We now give a report of the matters not included in our account of the meeting yesterday.

FOREIGN COINS.

Hon. Attorney General moved the first reading of a Bill entitled an Ordinance to prohibit the importation and circulation of foreign copper and bronze coins.

Hon. Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read a first time.

The objects and reasons attached to the Bill state:—Up to recently Hongkong copper coin was at a very large discount but recent measures for redemption has reduced it to a figure which it is considered cannot be further reduced without legislation on account of the free circulation of foreign coins. As the discount causes great hardship to many businesses in the Colony and as the amount of Hongkong coin in circulation and in stock at the present time is estimated to be no more than is required for the needs of the Colony, opportunity is now taken to prohibit the circulation of foreign coins. It is believed that, with the successful operation of this Bill, the coin in question will rise, almost if not quite, to par. The principle of the Bill has been approved by residents representing all sections of the business community.

His Excellency said the Government believed that the amount of Hongkong Copper Coin in circulation in the Colony was not in excess of currency requirements, but nevertheless they remained at a discount of 7 per cent. because of the large quantity of Chinese copper coin circulating here. At the present moment the Government had over a lakh of dollars worth of copper coins lying at the Bank, on which they were daily losing a considerable interest. This sum would form a reserve which would supply the demand which it was anticipated would be created by the Bill. The Bill had the approval of the leading Banks in the Colony, the Secretary of State, the Treasury, the Bank of England and also the Chinese community here. Its operation would also be a valuable object lesson to the Government in dealing with silver subsidiary coinage. It was not proposed that the powers conferred by the Bill should be drastically exercised at first; it would probably be sufficient to restrict the importation in bulk and also to prevent the circulation of Chinese copper coins by those who handle copper currency in large quantities. Chinese "Cash" would be excluded from the operation of the Bill, because the extremely poor of all countries required a currency which was very minute.

Hon. Attorney General moved the second reading of the Bill, entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to Diagonous Goods.

Hon. Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read a second time.

Hon. Attorney General moved the third reading of the Bill, entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to Diagonous Goods.

Hon. Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read a third time.

Hon. Attorney General moved the fourth reading of the Bill, entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to Diagonous Goods.

Hon. Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read a fourth time.

Hon. Attorney General moved the fifth reading of the Bill, entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to Diagonous Goods.

Hon. Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read a fifth time.

Hon. Attorney General moved the sixth reading of the Bill, entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to Diagonous Goods.

Hon. Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read a sixth time.

Hon. Attorney General moved the seventh reading of the Bill, entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to Diagonous Goods.

Hon. Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read a seventh time.

Hon. Attorney General moved the eighth reading of the Bill, entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to Diagonous Goods.

Hon. Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read an eighth time.

Hon. Attorney General moved the ninth reading of the Bill, entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to Diagonous Goods.

MANCHURIA'S INDEPENDENCE.

Jang Lan-kwo (and Chung Chok-an, two former leaders of Hungkuang) have joined some Manchou officers who have wired to Yuan Shih-kai that Manchuria will declare for independence.

BRITISH PROPERTY DESTROYED.

PEKING, March 7.
The British-American Tobacco Company's premises in Peking-fu was burned down by the rioters.

A SIGNIFICANT REQUEST.

PEKING, March 8.
The Chinese Legation in St. Petersburg hoisted the republican flag but was asked to pull it down by the Russian Government.

A STRANGE STEP.

YUAN'S POWERS.

Tang Shao-yi has wired to Sun Yat-sen that Yuan Shih-kai should be given supreme power in military affairs so he can keep order in the North.

THE PRESIDENCY.

As to the matter of Yuan Shih-kai taking over the office of president in Peking the Nanking cabinet has sanctioned it, but says the new cabinet should be formed in Nanking and then removed to Peking.

SEAL OF OFFICE.

The members of the national assembly will be called to Peking.

THE RECENT RIOTS.

PEKING, March 7.
The recent riot was caused by a body of artillery and the 3rd Division, their object being only to loot and not political. All those who were killed or executed were mutineers or robbers, not a single civilian or official was hurt. Peking and Tientsin are at present as quiet as usual.

THE COAL STOPPAGE.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, March 7.
Mr. Ramsey MacDonald, M.P., and other Labourites conferred with the Miners' Executive last night. It is believed the conference had reference to the drain on the resources of the other Trades Unions on account of enforced unemployment.

GOVERNMENT INACTION.

The Radical papers are loudest in demanding that the Government should take immediate action to end the industrial war, fearing that a needless extension of the stoppage might easily lead to a conflict between the miners and their fellow workers.

A PROHIBITED MEETING.

It is stated that the Amalgamated Society of Railwaymen prohibited a meeting arranged by the London branch for the purpose of pledging railwaymen not to move trains conveying troops or coals.

UNDERGRADUATES AS MINERS.

The under-graduates at Oxford have formed a Strike Emergency Committee and are endeavouring to obtain permission to work the mines. So far 380 have enrolled.
Many towns are reducing their lighting and water supplies owing to the strike.

The London and North-Western Railway has reduced its service to the statutory minimum, which means the suspension of thousands of employees.

EFFECT ON THE CONTINENT.

Telegrams from the Continent indicate restriction of the steamship services of Norway, France and Germany, and increased freight charges, owing to insufficient coal.

UNPROMISING.

Mr. Asquith and his colleagues met the Executive this afternoon. The miners are prepared to attend further conferences if desired, but it is understood that the conferences show no lessening of differences.

THE KING'S PLANS AFFECTED.

It is understood that the coal crisis is affecting the plans of His Majesty the King to the extent that several of His Majesty's prospective engagements, including a visit to foreign Courts, will not be definitely arranged while the unrest remains acute. If the deadlock continues some of the engagements will almost certainly be postponed.

NEGOTIATIONS RESUMED.

LONDON, March 8.
The Board of Trade announced to-day that negotiations with both parties will be resumed to-day.

OVERSEAS GARRISONS.

HOUSE OF COMMONS DEBATE.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, March 7.
In the course of the debate on the Army Estimates in the House of Commons, Colonel Seely, the Under Secretary of State for War, speaking with regard to the overseas troops generally, said the Government were satisfied that they are adequate, but the numbers are not fixed for all time. Circumstances might arise necessitating reinforcements, but nothing at present pointed to this.
Several Liberals urged the withdrawal of the South African garrison.
Colonel Seely replied that the Government did not propose to withdraw it in 1912, because almost that very day the Union Parliament was discussing its own Defence Bill.

MR. SECRETARY KNOX.

HOME RULE.

FURTHER POSTPONEMENT.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, March 8.
Speaking in the House of Commons, Mr. Asquith announced that the exigencies of parliamentary business made it impossible to introduce the Home Rule Bill before Easter—(loud Opposition cheers)—but he hoped that the Budget and the Welsh Disestablishment Bill would be brought in before Easter.

CAPT. AMUNDSEN RETURNS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, March 7.
A Hobart telegram states that Capt. R. Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, has arrived there, but is reticent regarding his experiences.

ENTERPRISING JOURNALISM.

LATER.
Capt. Amundsen has sold the copyright of his exploits to the Daily Chronicle, hence he refuses to speak of his experiences.

The keenest interest is being manifested in the results of the expedition, because it is known that Capt. Amundsen hoped to forestall Capt. Scott, who is likewise returning and is expected at Stewart Island, New Zealand, at any moment.

THE POLE DISCOVERED?

LATER.
The correspondent of the Daily Express at Wellington states that Capt. Amundsen says that Capt. Scott has reached the South Pole.

ANOTHER REPORT.

CHAUFFEUR CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER.

At the Magistrate's Court this afternoon a chauffeur named Abdul Rashid, in the employ of the Dragon Cycle Co., was charged before Mr. C. A. D. Muburns with the manslaughter of a Chinese named Ng Luk Go, who was knocked down by a motor-car driven by Rashid in Connaught Road on the 4th inst. and died from injuries received.

Dr. Macdonald gave evidence of the extent of the injuries sustained by deceased. He stated that there was a cut near the right eye and a bruise on the left thigh, while the skull was fractured. The cause of death was a fractured skull.

Mr. C. Lauritsen, proprietor of the Dragon Cycle Depot, stated that when he arrived at the office at 10 a.m. on the 4th inst. he found the glass in one of the lamps was broken. The regulator was also bent and one side of the speech-board was broken; while the top of the hood at the back was smashed. The car was damaged to the extent of about $50.

The character of the damage seemed to show that the car had been in a very tight corner and that the driver had had difficulties with it. A whisky bottle and a glass were found in the car. Defendant had been in witness's employ since May last year and before that he was employed in the establishment. He was a good driver and was careful with the car. He may have had some slight accidents, such as knocking a wheel off the car, but he did not do it. Witness did not notice that he was the worse for liquor, though he had on other occasions seen him affected by drink. After other evidence the case was adjourned.

SECRET SOCIETY PROSECUTION.

Thirty-six men were charged before Mr. Irving at the Magistrate's Court this afternoon with being concerned in the carrying on of a secret society, namely, the Triad Society—at Tsui On Lane, the case having been remanded from February 1st.

Mr. P. M. Hodgson, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, and stated that many documents had been placed before him which would convince him that the society was an unlawful one, that it did exist and that it was carried on in the house in question, and also that the defendants were connected with the society. There were gambling purposes, but the fact that there was gambling going on did not put aside the other fact that the members of the society held their meetings there.

Sgt. Gerrard spoke to entering the house under a gambling warrant and finding flags and insignia of the Society. Mr. John Lloyd, assistant to the Registrar General, said he knew of the Society, but did not know there was at present a branch in existence. In 1910 the Registrar General made a special effort to suppress the Society and until this prosecution he thought it had been dispersed.

A DOG CASE.

At the Magistrate's Court this morning a Chinese inspector of the Gas Company charged Mr. Robert J. Howard, proprietor of the Alexandra Cafe, with keeping ferocious dogs at his residence, No. 31, Pokfulam Road.

The evidence of the complainant was that he entered the compound of defendant's residence in order to take a meter reading when three dogs rushed at him and one bit him on the leg.

Defendant stated that complainant had no right to enter the compound without first knocking. The Gas Company's inspectors had been coming to the house for the past three years, and nothing of the kind had ever happened before.

His Worship—How many dogs have you?
Defendant—Three.
His Worship—Are they ferocious?
Defendant—No.

His Worship—You have never had any complaints of the dogs biting anybody before?
Defendant—No.

Evidence was given by defendant's "boy" who stated that the complainant came into the compound without giving any warning, whereupon the dogs began barking at him. Complainant provoked the dogs, but they did not bite him.
